Dedication

MR. LOREN E. BIBLER

To each of us, he was a loyal friend and always ready to lend a helping hand. His words of cheer, his fine sense of humor, and his friendly smile will always be remembered as we go forward on our way.

We treasure with deep gratitude our years of schooling under his guidance and counseling. As a token of our appreciation we, the Seniors of 1964, dedicate this year's "Excelsior" to Principal Loren E. Bibler.

Welcome

The students, faculty, and patrons of the school district extend to you and yours a hearty welcome. May our school, through your leadership, continue up the ladder of success to even greater heights yet to be attained. To this goal we will support your efforts.

FEBRUARY 22, 1964 ARLINGTON VS. VANLUE

Arlington regained the County Tournament Championship Title for the 3rd straight time in 3 years by defeating Vanlue, 53-51. This was also the 3rd time the Red Devils defeated the Wildcats in the finals.

The game was so exciting and close that we decided to give the game in detail, quarter by quarter.

The first quarter started out with a back and forth action. The largest spread was five points in the favor of Arlington. The score at the end of the first quarter was 14-11.

After two minutes of the second quarter, Vanlue's Roark put the Wildcats ahead 15-16. But it was to no avail, for Arlington regained the lead from the charity strip.

Arlington could not find shooting room in the first half, after they only shot 19 times to Vanlue's 30. The score turned out at the half in the favor of the Red Devils, 31-25, a six point margin.

In early seconds of the second half, Vanlue's press brought them within three points. Then the scoring went back and forth, stimulated by Arlington's Bill Alge and Vanlue's Tom Morgan. After three minutes, Arlington saw a lead of 7 points dwindle down to one. In the last two seconds of this quarter, Arlington's Marv Rower sunk a hook-shot that put Arlington ahead, 45-42.

The fourth quarter brought the fans to their feet, as Harold Hinkle sunk a charity shot to tie the score 49-all. With two minutes remaining and later again with one, Bill Alge sunk three free throws to put the Devils ahead by three points. The Vanlue Wildcats were not to be denied, as Hinkle put in a two pointer to bring Vanlue within one point of the Red Devils. The ball game was put on ice as Ron Russell sunk a charity shot with less than a second to go.

Bill Alge received the honors of being high-point man with 22 points.

Arlington received three of the six trophies given out that night. They received a trophy for 1963 Football Championship, 1964 Hancock County League Runners-up in Basketball, and for the 1964 BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONSHIP.

By winning the County Tournament Championship, Arlington was entitled to go to the sectional Tourney play at Findlay, where they would meet the Ada Bulldogs. The winner of this game would proceed on to Tiffin and play the winner of the Fremont-Upper game.

The Arlington Chapter of the Future Farmers of America has participated in many activities during the 1963-64 year. They were on the local, county, state, and national level. Locally we held a Corn Picker Safety Campaign, conducted our annual Pest Hunt, sold garden seeds, planted and harvested our Corn Test plot, observed National F.F.A. week by attending Good Hope Lutheran Church as a group, had a Record Hop for the High School, and had our annual Parent & Son Banquet.

County activities included the Parliamentary Procedure contest where we received a silver rating, County Dairy & General Livestock judging contests, and we entered a float in the Junior Fair Parade at the Hancock County Fair and received first place.

Our state activities were the Dairy & General Livestock judging contests, and the State F.F.A. convention where one of our members received the State Farmer Degree.

This year two of our members and advisors attended the National F.F.A. Convention at Kansas City, Missouri. While there, they witnessed the American Farmer Degree presentation. William Bame, a graduate member, received this high honor. Bill is the third member to receive this degree.

As F.F.A. members we believe strongly in our Motto:

Learning to Do
Doing to Learn
Earning to Live
Living to Serve

The Arlington Chapter of Future Homemakers of America met the first Monday in October 1963. We discussed activities for the rest of the year and had our election of officers. We decided to meet the first Monday of every month.

At our November 4th meeting we decided on a bake sale held at Traught's IGA Store November 19, 1963. Nineteen members were initiated that night. For a week we wore a ribbon bow of our club colors, red and white.

At our December 2nd meeting we discussed a Mother and Daughter Tea, set for January 6, 1964. We decided to make some extra money for our banquet by selling candy.

During the business meeting of January 6th, three more girls were initiated. We discussed a bake sale for February 1, 1964, and a dance in the near future. There were eighteen mothers there. Mrs. Loren Bibler was our guest. A short program was given by members of the club.

February 3rd was the date for our fifth meeting. We discussed committees for the F.H.A. banquet set for March 13, 1964, and all the necessary work to be done.

At our March meeting we finished the details for our banquet. The parents of all the F.H.A. girls were invited. We went to the Bi-County F.H.A. meeting in Arcadia, held the first Wednesday of the month.

During the April Meeting we discussed the annual F.H.A. picnic for all the girls.

At the May meeting we had the election of officers and enjoyed a covered dish picnic plus "hotdogs" and marshmallows.

Class Prophecy

Leafing through my scrapbook, I came upon remembrances of the class of "64". As I looked at them, I wondered what had become of my former pupils. Since I was getting ready to start my long-planned, around-the-world trip, I decided to look up these prize pupils.

On the trip to New York to board the plane, I went through Slippery Rock, Pa. Passing through, I noticed a man dragging a little boy up a walk in front of the school. It was Tom Mercer. I found out later he was the truant officer.

Walking into the travel agency in New York, I noticed a gold plaque that read "Dean Davis, President." After a little chat with Dean, I decided it was time to eat, so I stopped at the famous LeRalph. As I walked in, I was greeted by the owner himself, who was none other than Dale Ralph. He personally escorted me to my table and summoned a very attractive blond waitress. As I gave her my order, I noticed her to be Mary Ellen Hartman. While I ate, entertainment was furnished by the well-known Daniel Orchestra. Silence lingered as the conductor approached the podium. When he reached the podium, I could see his face and I realized he was my own Danny Smith. Summoning the waitress for my check, I commented on the delicious meal I had just eaten. Mary smiled and said, "Didn't you know that the chef here is another of your pupils, Roger Fast?"

My next stop was the airport. As I boarded the plane, I was welcomed by the hostess, whom I recognized to be Linda Bishop. After I was seated, an announcement came over the loud-speaker--"fasten your seat belts and ride in confidence, because the plane is in the capable control of Dianne Hartman.

Our first stop-over was at Manchester, England. Manchester is noted for her great car races, so I decided to attend one. I arrived just in time to hear the winner of the first race, the fearless dare-devil, Jerry Hickie. During the second race there was an unfortunate accident. The announcer called for a doctor several times; but it seemed there was only one physician present, the famous neurosurgeon, Dr. J. Marvin Rower.

A large field in Holland was the site of our emergency landing. As we walked up to the farm house, we noticed a woman who was evidently going to do her morning chores. To my amazement, she turned out to be the former Miriam Tegmeier, now wife of the owner of a chain of dairy farms.

After repairs were made, we headed for Norway, the land of snow and ice. While there, we visited the world-famous reindeer farms owned and operated by Lee Alan Best. It seems that Lee was the trainer of the Champions in the reindeer-pulling contest.

Leaving Norway, we headed for West Germany. I wanted to pick up some souvenirs for my grandchildren, so I stopped at a doll shop. This shop, I found out later, was one of a chain of stores, owned by Julene Hindall. The store was currently having a sale on its specialty, Teddy Bears.

The Switzerland Alps was our next stop. While there, we stayed at the Algea Ski Resort. Tobogganing was one of the favorite sports at this resort, so I decided to try it. As I went to get the necessary equipment, I thought I recognized the tobogganing instructor; I was right. It was the former Nancy Drummelsmith, now co-owner of the Algea and wife of the President of the First National Bank of Switzerland, William S. Alge, Jr. After tobogganing, I noticed that the crystal from my watch was missing. Nancy suggested I go to Mitchell's Jewelry Shop in the Valley. It seemed Becky Mitchell inherited the shop from her uncle and was a very skillful repairer of jewelry.

We boarded our plane again and headed for Austria, where it's that time of year for the winter olympics. Since I didn't want to miss the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity of seeing the Olympics, I decided to attend. I arrived just in time to watch the final participant in the women's figure-skating contest. When she finished, the applause was mighty for this tall, graceful girl. As the gold-medal winner approached to receive her award, I recognized Jane Bame. The day's events were highlighted by the men's speed-skating contest. As the contestants lined up, I thought I recognized the United States entry. When the names of the contestants and their country were announced, I found out that it was Jeff Rettig who represented the United States.

We then departed for Russia. Our escort in Moscow suggested we visit the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. There we were introduced to all the high officials representing our government. I was pleasantly surprised to learn that our Ambassador to Russia was none other than Stephen Smith.

Our next scheduled stop was Siam. Here we had the opportunity of visiting a cat-food manufacturer. As I watched the owner approach, I recalled one of my pupil's love for cats. It was this same pupil--Bill Davis.

As we were crossing the Himalayas, the pilot announced that if we looked closely, we could see the world renown mountain climber, J. Wayne Wilch. Wayne has climbed many mountains for exploration purposes, but this one was purely for enjoyment.

Class Prophecy (con't)

France was our next stop. As I toured the city, I came upon an extravagant salon of beauty--The Dorthea. My curiosity overwhelmed me, so I entered the salon. I was escorted to a chair by one of the hairdressers. She asked me if I would like the owner to do my hair. I consented and the owner was summoned. To my amazement it was Dorothy Clinger, a famous hair artist. She suggested I attend the Opera while in France. The world-famous soprano, Glenda Baughman, was going to present Madame Butterfly, and Dottie thought that I'd enjoy the performance of my former pupil.

Proceeding on, we came to the quaint city of Venice. There we took a guided tour through the city in a gondola piloted by Dan Patton. Dan thought that while we were in Italy we'd enjoy a real Italian pizza, so he suggested a visit to the Pricia Pizzaria. When we arrived, we found that the proprietor was in the kitchen preparing one of his world-famous pizzas. I discovered it to be the Native?? Italian, Ron Price!

We were then off to the land of matadors and bull fights. As we landed in Madrid, we saw mobs of people on their way to the bull fights. The grand finale was the fight with Ferocious Ferdinand the Bull and the matador, the greatest and mightiest of all bull fighters, Shirley Miller. After the fights, we went to Shirley's dressing room and were introduced to her trainer, Cindy Crates.

The mysterious land of Egypt was our next destination. We toured the pyramids, and we were told by our guide that Ronald Russell was investigating the Case of the Stolen Mummy and had the key to the whole mystery.

Our plane was re-routed to Tanganyika, where we were housed by the Peace Corps during our stay. And to our amazement this branch was headed by Gloria Shuck.

One of the outstanding highlights of my trip was a visit to the Kangaroo farms in Australia. There were acres and acres of open plains for the kangaroos. I was introduced to the Kangaroo King of the whole Australian Commonwealth, John E. King.

Next we were off to the land of the Orient. One of the more outstanding features of Japan is the Geisha House, owned and operated by Rex L. Bishop.

Missing my plane, I had to take a boat to Okinawa. On the boat I became interested in a hard-fought game of shuffleboard arranged by the recreation leader, Sandra Gossman. From Sandy I learned that Trudy Green was the director of the U.S.O. in Okinawa.

From Okinawa I boarded an Ocean Liner, headed for Hawaii. As we were resting on the sands of Waikiki, we noticed, on an incoming wave, the famous surfer, John Reilly. It seemed that John and his side-kick, Joe Bishop, were practicing for the world-surfboarding championships.

Taking a chartered plane, we journeyed to Alcapolco. Making a movie there was Elvis Presley. As we tried to get his autograph, we were confronted by his personal secretary, who turned out to be Paulette Beard.

Before we returned home, we decided to watch the International Hockey Championship Team, owned, trained, and coached by Sue Long, which was playing in Vancouver, Br. Columbia. At the hockey game, we ran into the editor and artist of the International Press, Don Steinman and Bill Brewster, respectively.

The circus has always been one of my favorite pastimes, so I decided to visit Georgia, where Ringling Brothers' Circus was in winter quarters. There I met the famous trick horse-back rider, Betty Brewster.

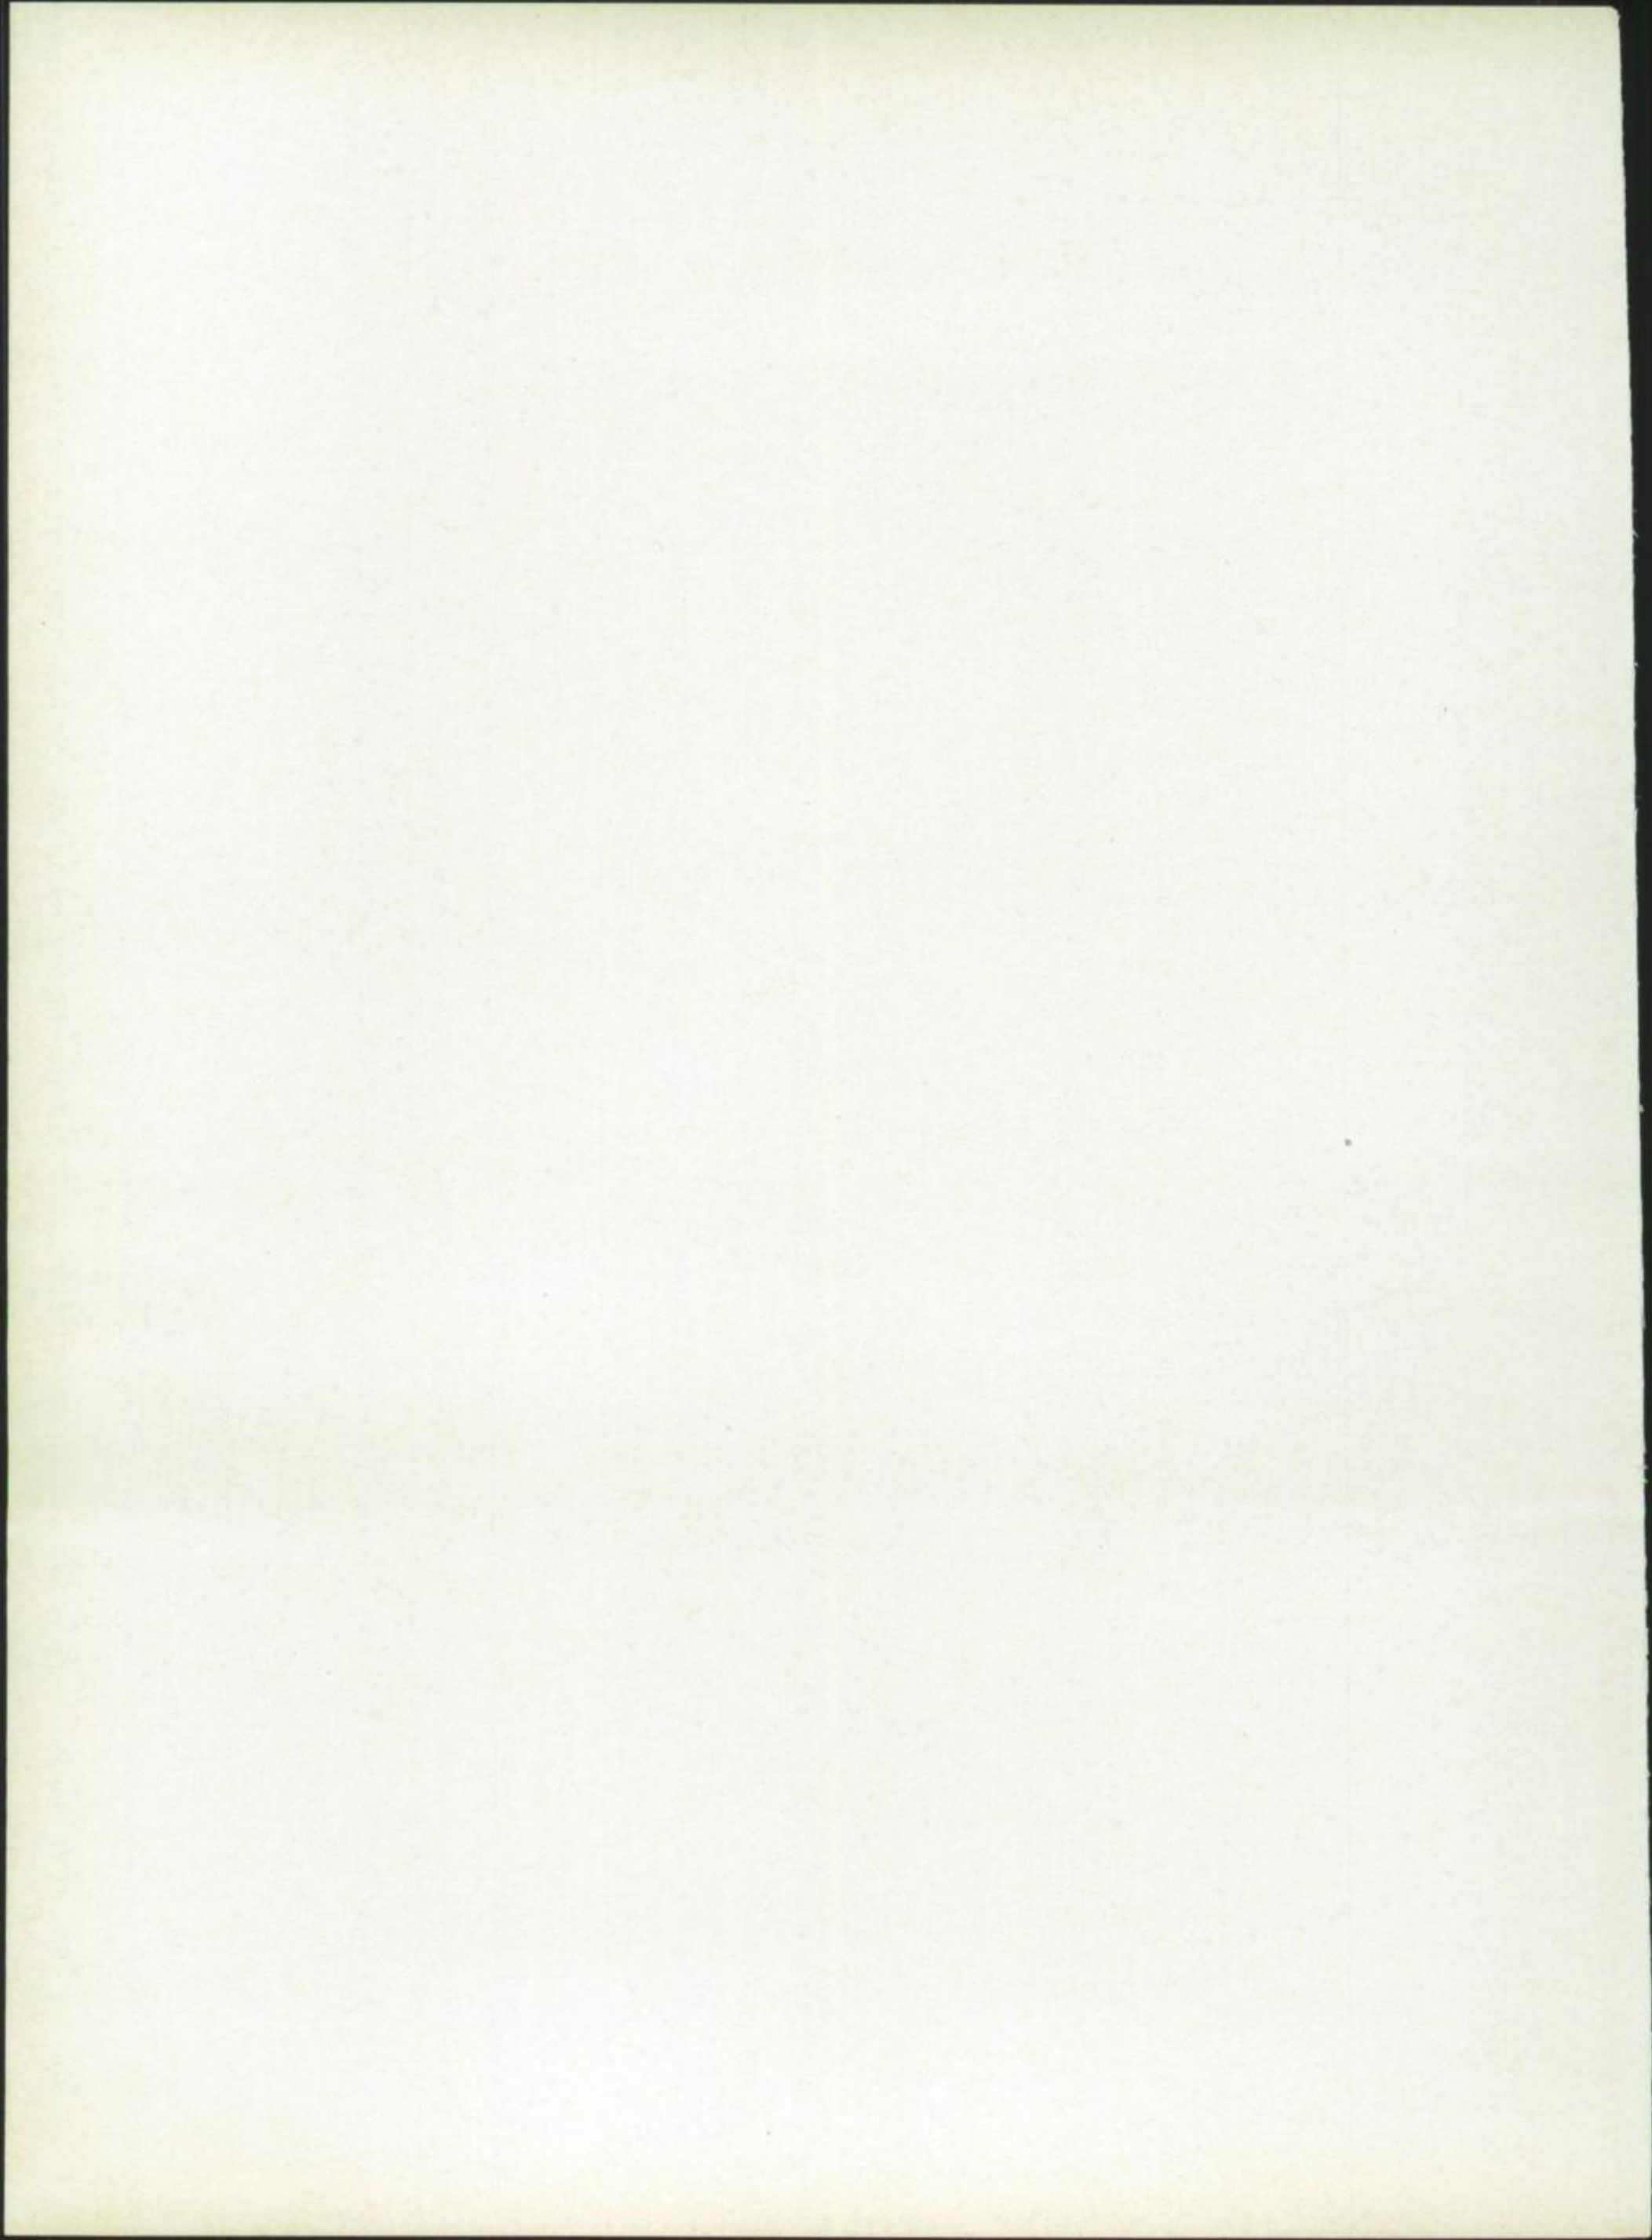

Having found that I gained fifteen pounds during my excursion, I thought I'd better reduce before going home to Ohio. I'd heard of a wonderful reducing salon in Chicago, so I thought it'd be worth a try. When I got there, I discovered, to my amazement, that Mary Crates was the owner of the prosperous establishment.

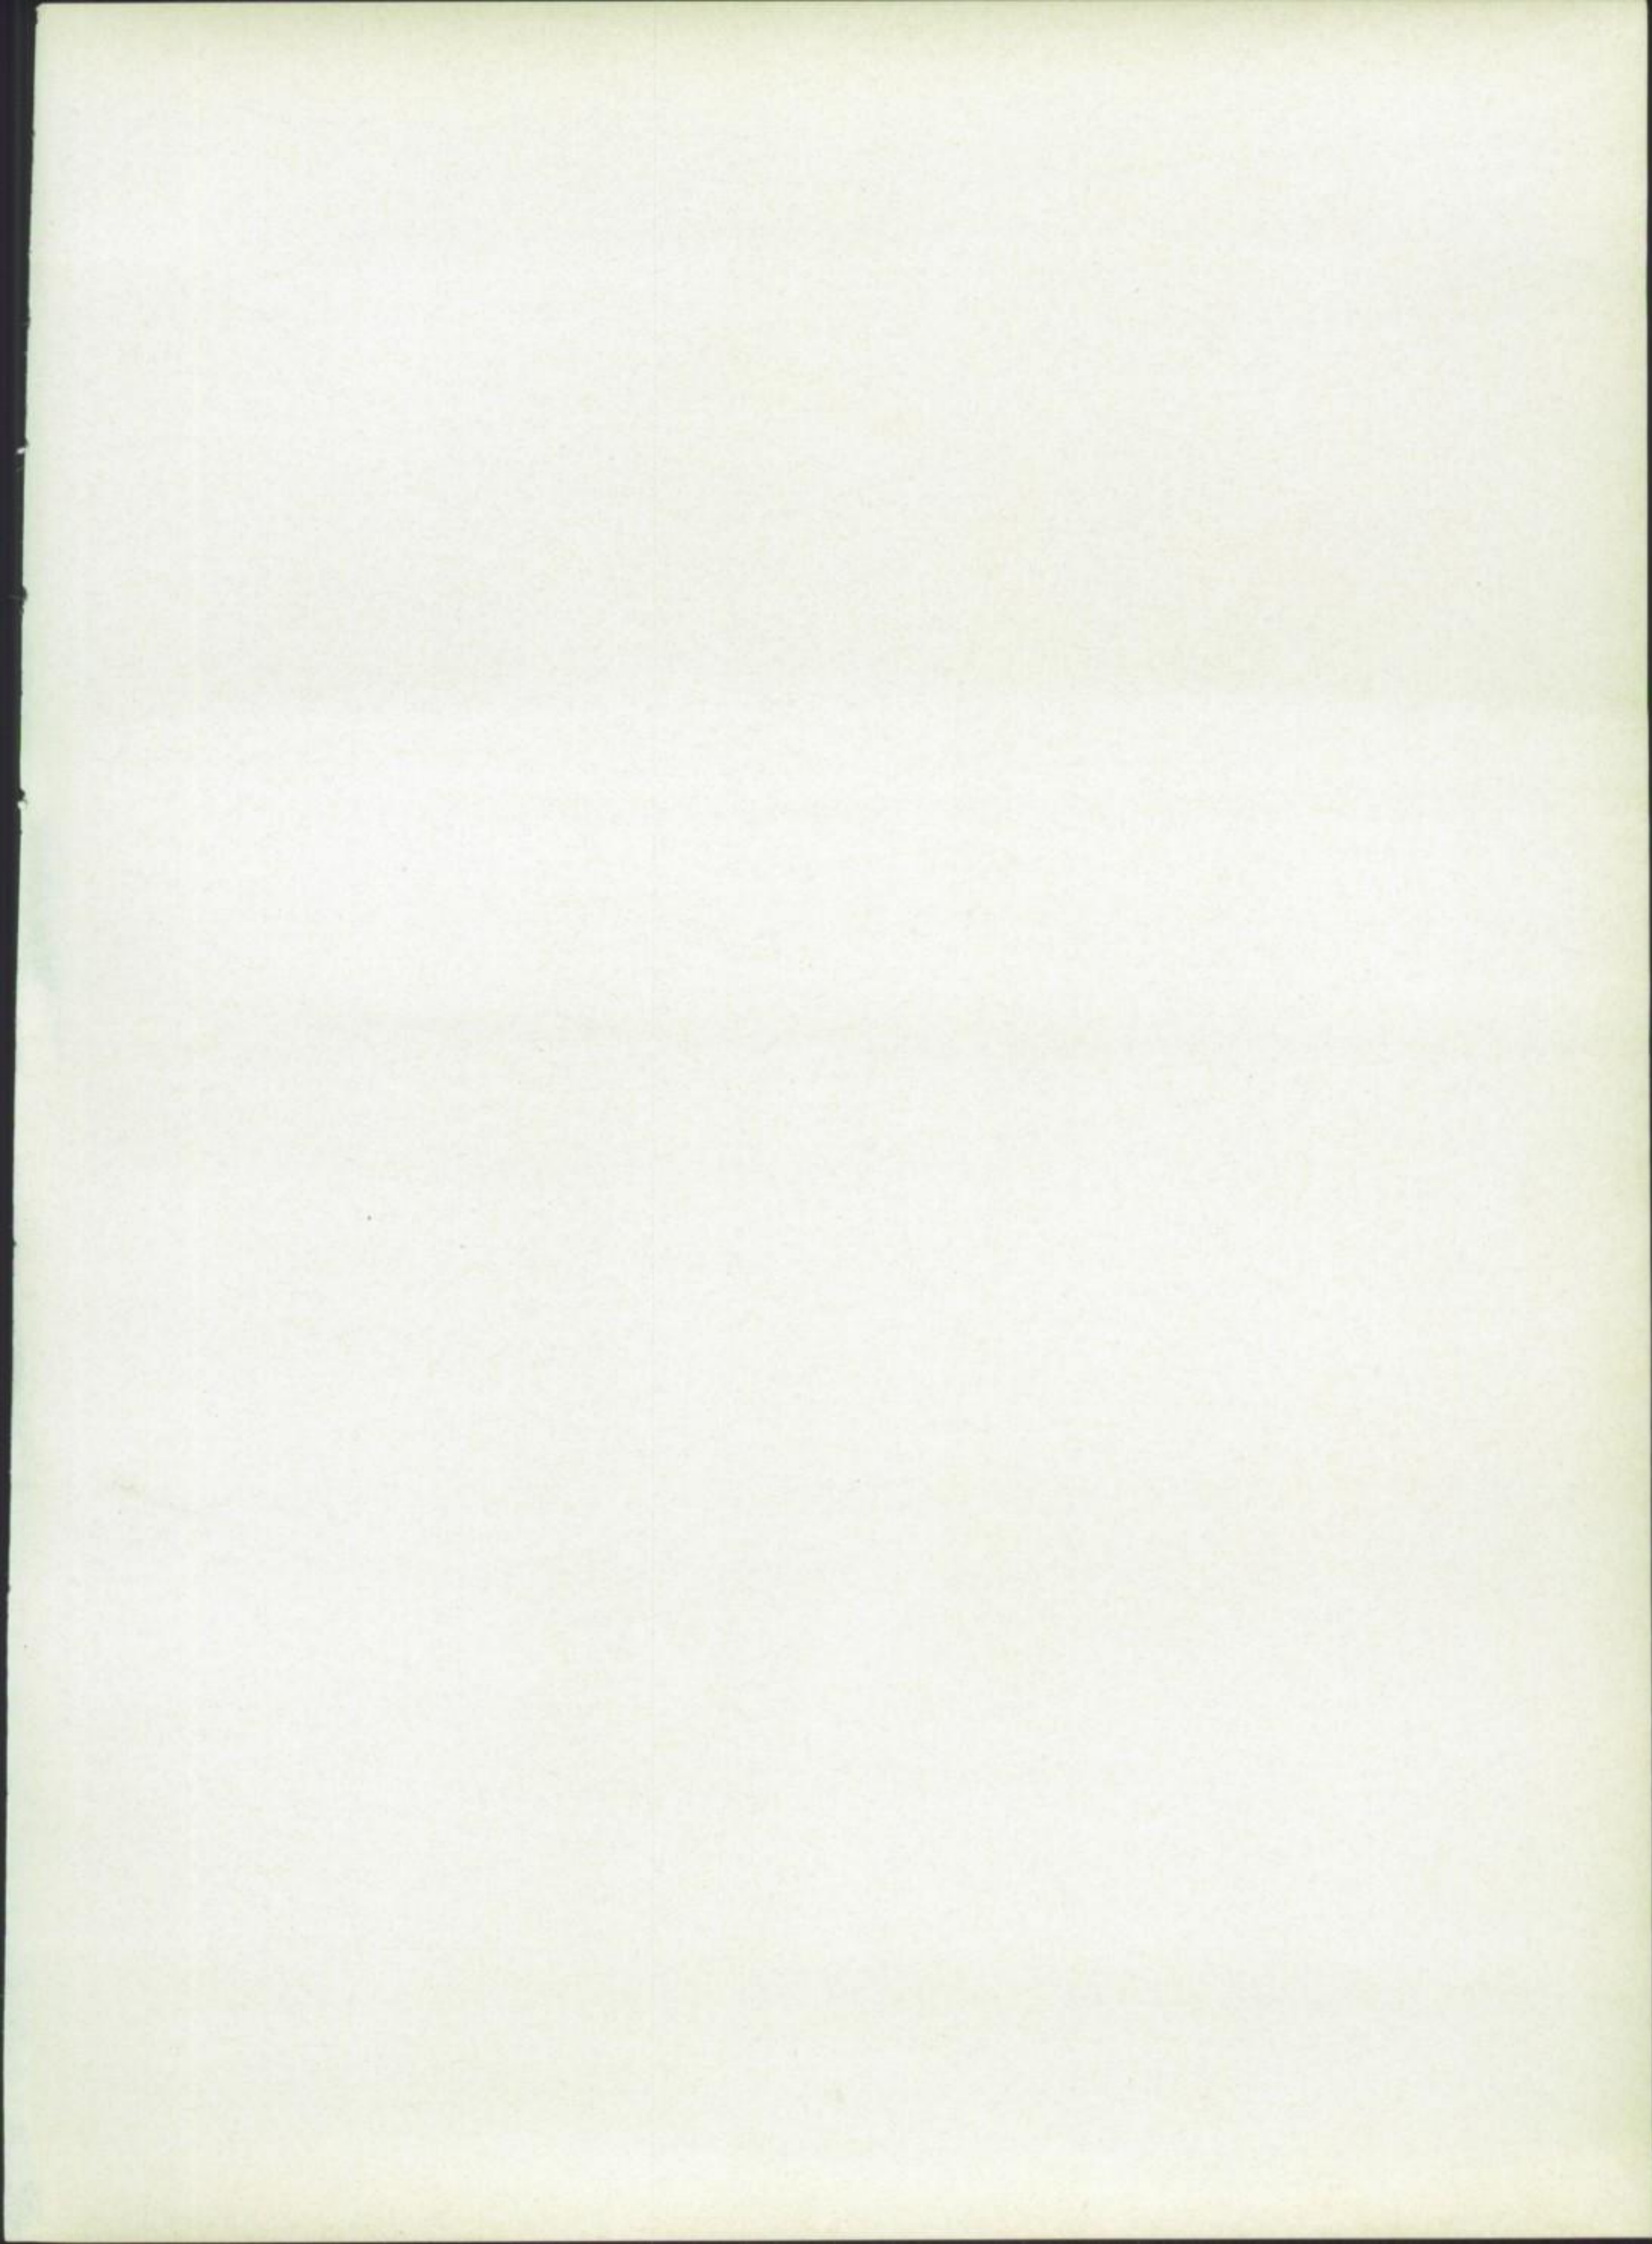

After returning to Ohio, I recorded all these wonderful memories of the "class of 64" in my scrapbook. This trip was a rewarding experience and I hope that I will someday meet these people again.
